 Re: Acoustic Screens.

Dear Fletcher

The accompanying Drawing is of a BBC screen, these have been in use at Abbey Road for over 20 Years now. As far as I am aware they are no longer available ??

We have bought more recently, similar hard/soft screens from "Audio Kinetics" and "Stand Easy", though these do not have the hinged panel.

I Hope this is of some help.

Both surfaces of each of the two halves are faced in hessian with a low density foam as the absorbing material underneath.

BASS SCREEN

Hi, This is the screen type I think you are enquiring about.

As far as I am aware they were manufactured only for Abbey Road.

They were used around drum kits and guitar amps, though we rarely use them now. They were placed in front of the drum kit with BBC screens behind.

Again we do have similar ones made by Audio Kinetics and Stand Easy.

I spoke to a sales person at Audio Kinetics yesterday and was told they no longer manufacture screens.

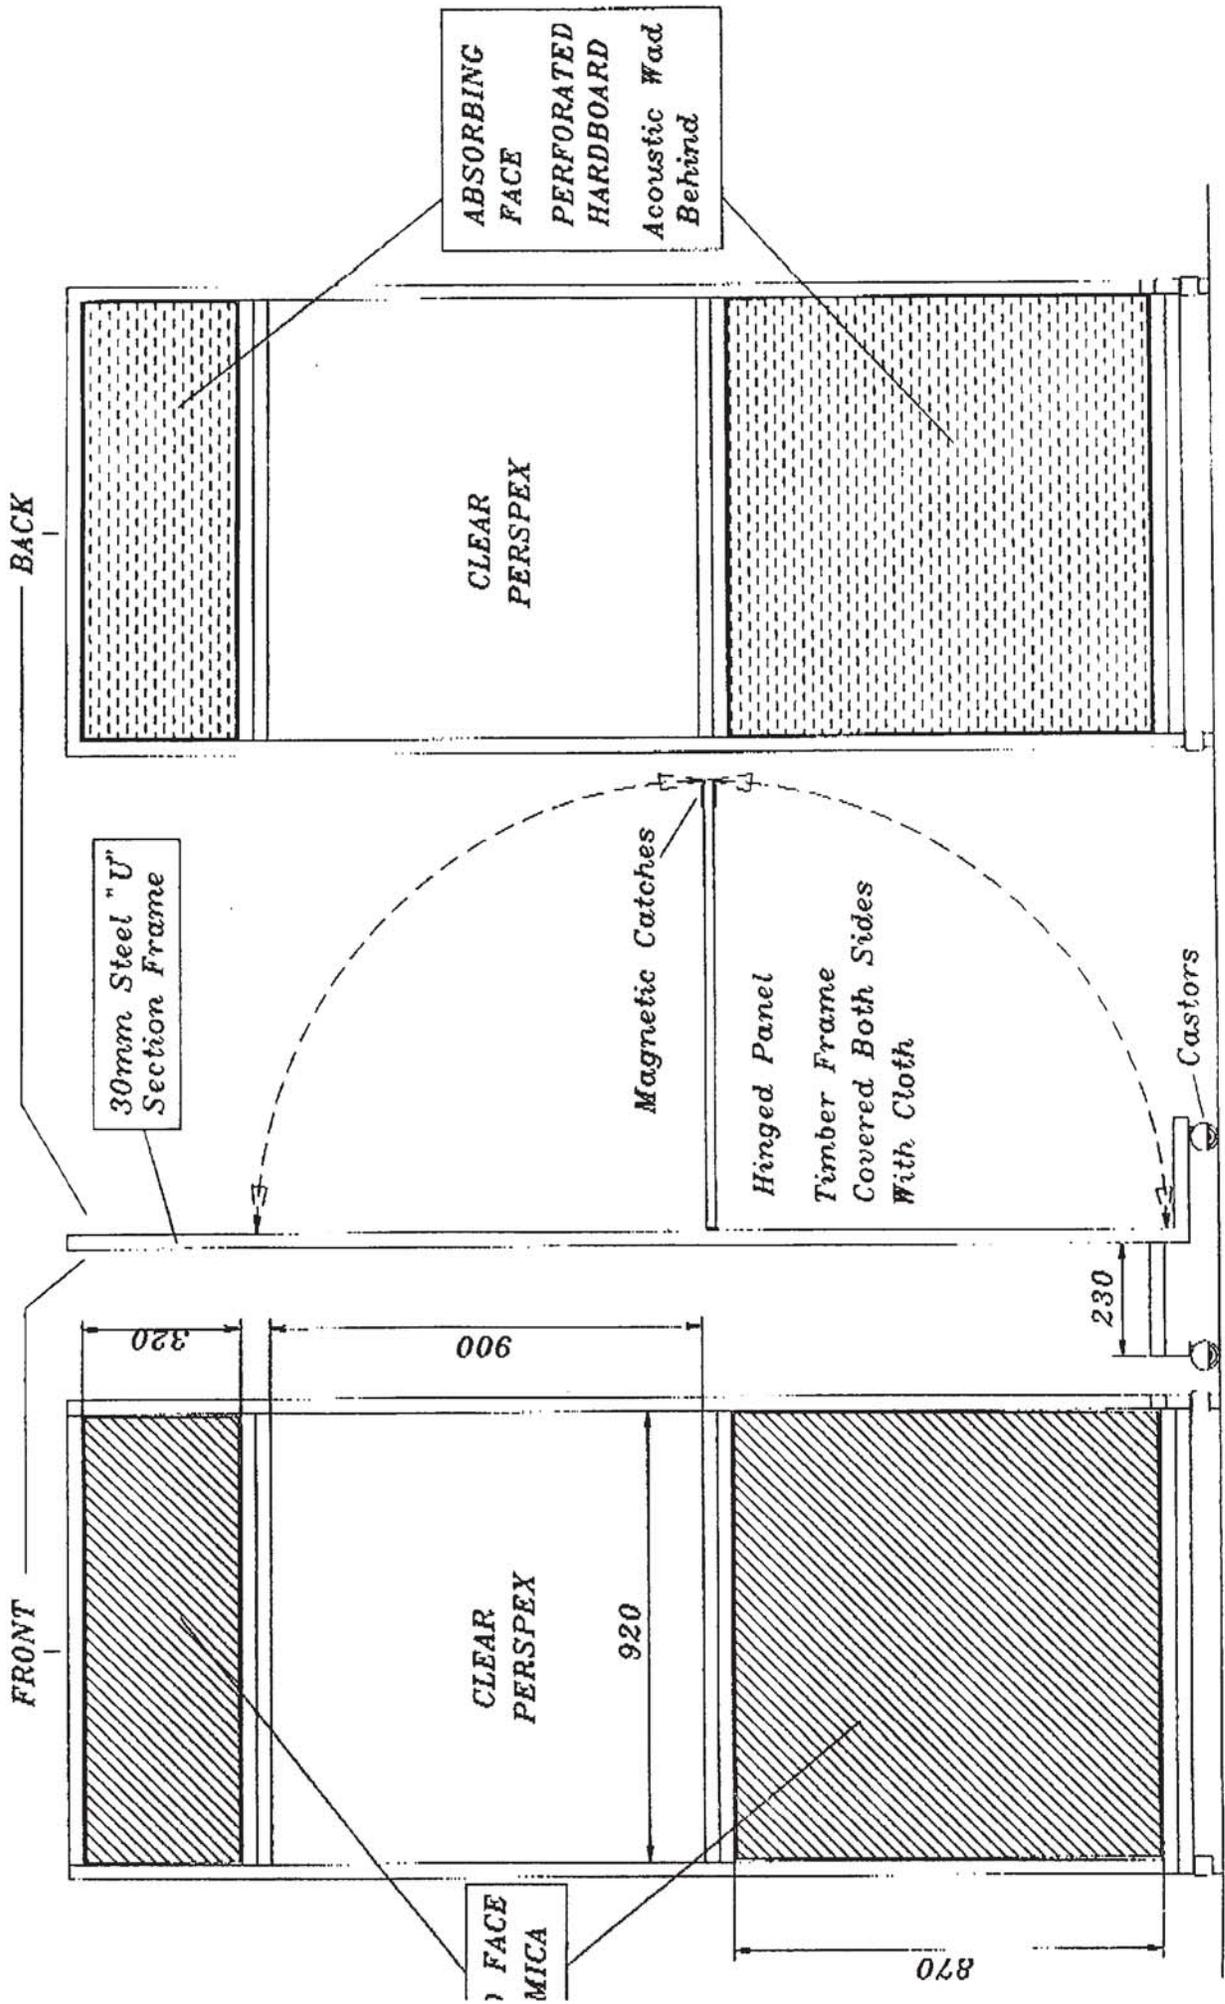

I hope this is also of help to you.

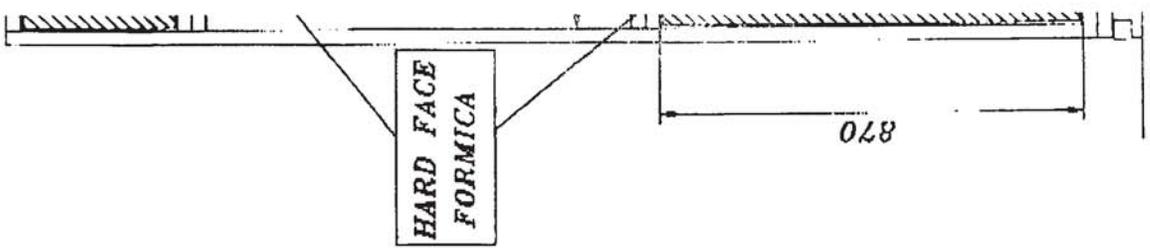

Many Thanks
