

Falling through Seasons.

Verse 1: (F - B (HalfStepDown Tuning))

I watch the leaves as they drift away, so slow.
Every moment feels so fleeting.
Every shadow whispers time has flown.

If I could stop for a while, hold it in place,
would it make it real?
Would it give me something to feel?

Chorus(F -B & C - B):

I'm falling, through seasons.
Every day is slipping by.
Well the Time is racing.
Every memory fades as I try.

I'm changing, you see it.
Every moment comes and goes.
Well the Time keeps running.
It's a story nobody knows.

Nobody pauses to wonder,
nobody tries to hold the now.
I've never felt so far from time.
And now it's lost somehow.

Nobody sees where it leads,
nobody stops to ask them why.
And you know how it feels,
and you know how it flies.

Verse 2:

The sun is fading, and the cold wind starts to blow.
Every heartbeat echoes louder.
Every shadow feels like time undone.

If I could stay in this place, frozen and still,
would it ease the fear?
Would it keep the end from drawing near?

Chorus:

I'm falling, through seasons.
Every day is slipping by.
Well the Time is racing.
Every memory fades as I try.

I'm changing, you see it.
Every moment comes and goes.
Well the Time keeps running.
It's a story nobody knows.

Nobody pauses to wonder,
nobody tries to hold the now.
I've never felt so far from time.
And now it's lost somehow.

Nobody sees where it leads,
nobody stops to ask them why.
And you know how it feels,
and you know how it flies.

Bridge: (C -B - C -B)

Spring to summer, autumn fades to snow.
The cycle turns, and we all must let go.

Chorus:

I'm falling, through seasons.
Every day is slipping by.
Well the Time is racing.
Every memory fades as I try.

I'm changing, you see it.
Every moment comes and goes.
Well the Time keeps running.
It's a story nobody knows.

Nobody pauses to wonder,
nobody tries to hold the now.
I've never felt so far from time.
And now it's lost somehow.

Nobody sees where it leads,
nobody stops to ask them why.
And you know how it feels,
and you know how it flies.
